

WORRIED ABOUT PAYING RENT AND EVICTION?

6,628 EVICTIONS
HAVE BEEN FILED

IN ST. LOUIS CITY AND COUNTY
DURING THE EXTENDED
MORATORIUM.

RENTERS KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) issued a TEMPORARY EVICTION MORATORIUM effective THROUGH OCTOBER 3, 2021. Residential tenants who provide landlords with a CDC Declaration ARE PROTECTED FROM EVICTION.

TO BE PROTECTED, YOU MUST:

1. SEEK GOVERNMENT RENT ASSISTANCE

To find out if you are eligible for rent assistance, call THE UNITED WAY AT 2-1-1 or 1-800-427-4626. If an eviction case has been filed against you, or your landlord attempts to evict you by changing the locks or removing your belongings, please call one or more of these organizations for legal assistance.

2. DELIVER A DECLARATION TO YOUR LANDLORD

3. CONTINUE TO PAY AS MUCH RENT AS YOU ARE ABLE

The CDC order does not forgive rent. Late fees and charges still apply and would be due when the CDC Declaration is lifted. For these reasons, we strongly urge you to adhere to the CDC order and pay as much rent as you are able. You may still be evicted for breaking other parts of your lease, not related to payment.

IF THE DECLARATION IS RIGHT FOR YOU, then sign, date, and deliver it to your landlord or other person who has a right to evict you. Keep a copy for your records so you can prove that you are protected by this eviction moratorium. VISIT C19RRT.ORG/EVICTION for online guides, instructions and additional resources.
